TEMPORARY CAPITOL BUILDING
ERECTED FOR LEGISLATURE.

BUILT IN FOUR MONTHS

It is Estimated It Will Take Nine
Years for New Building—Temporary Quarters Necessary.

The temporary state capitol building in which the legislature will meet while the new capitol is being constructed will open Wednesday when the general assembly is called to order, fully equipped in all details.

Work on the building was begun August 15, after a long discussion of the advisability of renting temporary quarters. An expenditure of approximately $65,000 has been made, subject to the ratification of the legislature.

The completion of the new capitol building, it is estimated, will take from seven to nine years.

The temporary building is three and one-half stories high, and is of the modified modern classic type. The effect produced by the exterior lines is plain, but imposing.

The building is of frame construction, with the exterior walls finished in cement plastering, giving the impression of stone.

Huge steel trusses span the house and senate chambers, supported on steel columns, which continue down to the foundation. The main entrance is ornamented by Ionic columns, reaching up two stories.

The ground floor contains the senate and house enrolling and engrossing departments, ten spacious committee rooms and a large, fireproof vault connected by a stairway with a similar vault in the secretary of state's department. A 10-foot corridor runs the length of the first floor.

The offices of the secretary of state, auditor and treasurer and the governor's suite also are located on the ground floor. Each contains a reception room, private office, stenographer's room, workroom and fireproof vault.

The legislative halls are reached by a wide stairway, centrally located, continuing up to the gallery floors and landing in a large hall which separates the house and senate chambers.

The senate chamber is on the second floor. It is 43x47 feet, with a ceiling 22 feet high, and is lighted on the north and east sides. In the east chamber, where the presiding officer will sit, are located the private offices of the lieutenant governor, the senate secretary and the folder and stationery rooms.

The house chamber is 63x47 feet, with an inclined floor and a ceiling 22 feet high. It is lighted from the north and south sides. The speaker's seat is in the west end, as are also the offices of the speaker, chief clerk and folder and stationery rooms. The postoffice is situated between the senate and house.

Galleries for the public, with a seating capacity of 200 each, are situated in the rear end of both chambers, and are entered from the main hall.

In the gallery room provision also is made for a telegraph department and for a large appropriation committee room. Above the seats of the presiding officers of both the house and senate are private galleries.

Meeting Closed at Arkoe.

The meetings that have been in progress at Arkoe were brought to a close Sunday evening by the pastor, W. E. Royston. There were forty conversions and thirty-eight accessions to the church. This meeting was a decided success notwithstanding the serious illness of the pastor in the midst of the meetings. Those who preached for the pastor during his absence were Dr. W. B. Christy, Dr. G. S. Cox and Rev. M. Dewitt. Had the pastor been able to be with them all the time, and there had been no break in the meetings all indications seem to suggest that there might have been one hundred conversions. Prof. Washburn, the singer, proved to be a great factor in the meetings, especially in the absence of the pastor. This is decidedly the greatest meeting Arkoe has had in years. Prof. Washburn left Saturday night for Clearfield, Ia., where he is to assist in a meeting.

BARNARD.

Rev. Royston returned from the Arkoe meeting Monday. He and his family are going to leave Barnard Tuesday for Oklahoma, where they will visit at the following places: Stillwater, Glencoe, and then go to Blackburn, where he is to assist his brother in a meeting. They will return in three weeks. The Barnard charge will be supplied in the absence of Rev. Royston by Dr. Hanna of Bolckow and Rev. James Carmichael of Maryville.

Mrs. Salina Riddle of Barnard, who has been away from her home here for the past four months, is now back and in fairly good health. Grandma is certainly a good help in sickness. She seems to think that she can work in this capacity and she certainly has the desire to do it.

Mrs. T. T. Morehead of Skidmore has been spending several days with Mrs. A. Shelters.

WANT MORE MONEY UP TO THE COURT

STATE INSTITUTIONS ASK MORE
REVENUE FOR NEXT YEAR.

NORMAL AFTER $123,000

State School Will Try for an Increased
Appropriation—Auditor Says Revenue is Not Sufficient.

The state departments and institutions are asking for appropriations for the next two years, which exceed by $2,414,458.26 State Auditor Gordon's estimates of the available revenue for the next biennial period. The state government and its institutions, eleemosynary, penal and educational, are demanding $12,714,458.26. Auditor Gordon figures the revenue from all sources for the next two years will not exceed $10,300,000.

This means the legislature and the governor must find some new source of revenue or shave down the appropriations asked. During the past ten or twelve years the demand each biennial period for revenue has exceeded the available revenues because of the growth of the state institutions.

The Maryville State Normal will ask for $90,000 for salaries and support and $33,741 for other items. The appropriation two years ago was $102,523.13.

Following is the amount of money asked for by each of the educational institutions and the amount each received two years ago:

State university, $865,000, and two years ago received $502,000.

Kirkville normal wants $340,000, and two years ago received $201,800.

Warrensburg normal wants $388,362, and two years ago received $196,250.

Cape Girardeau normal is after $186,383.92, and two years ago received $228,260.

Springfield normal would like to have $213,000, and two years ago received $278,156.

The amount of appropriations asked for by these institutions exceed by $721,388.40 the amount appropriated by the legislature for them for the years 1911-12. The total amount asked for the salaries and support for the years 1913-14 is $1,654,681.92. There was appropriated for this purpose in 1911-12 $1,217,060. The educational institutions are asking $300,000 for new buildings or repairs. Two years ago they received for this purpose $233,000. They want $509,305.61 for miscellaneous expenses. They received two years ago $292,529.13 for miscellaneous expenses. The state auditor estimates that there will be $1,000,000 available for educational purposes from the collateral inheritance tax, which goes entirely to the state university, and the seminary money for this biennial period.

The Housewife's Decalogue.

Thou shalt not discard thy good dress because it is faded, but bleach to a pure white.

Thou shalt not pay out much money for corn putters, because a salve of soda and lard will cure the very worst corn on thy toe.

Thou shalt not use damp fruit, or thy cake will be heavy; after washing the currants and raisins, thou shalt be sure they are thoroughly dry.

Thou shalt not throw away sour cream, but use it in place of butter, when thou art baking.

Thou shalt not dry white gloves or hose in the sun, lest they turn yellow.

Thou shalt not discard thy rubber bag because of a hole, but fill with hot sand or salt, and 'twill give all the heat thou needest.

Thou shalt not let the juice ooze out from thy pie, because thou can prevent it by binding the edge with a strip of white cloth wrung out of cold water.

Thou shalt not pay large sums for dry cleaning, but thou shalt use "elbow grease" with cake of magnesia.

Thou shalt not allow cheese to mold, when a cloth wet in vinegar and put over it will prevent.

Thou shalt not use thy new baking dishes until after thou hast put them in a pan of cold water, set where it will boil, and then set away until water has cooled.—National Magazine.

UP TO THE COURT

PLAN FOR COUNTY ADVISER LAID
BEFORE THAT BODY.

THREE-YEAR CONTRACT

To Obtain Expert It is Necessary for
Court or Club to Contract for
That Length of Time.

Dean F. B. Mumford, head of the agricultural department of the state university, was in Maryville Tuesday, conferring with the county court and others interested in securing a county adviser for Nodaway county. Mr. Mumford was asked to come to this city by the Commercial club to explain the plans by which to get a man to give practical and scientific knowledge to every farmer in the county.

When Mr. Mumford was seen by a representative of this paper he said:

"If Nodaway county wants a county adviser it will be necessary to raise $1,000, as the United States government will give $500, and the state will also give $500. The United States government has set aside $500,000 for this purpose. The salary of an adviser is $2,000 a year, and of course there are some other expenses, such as providing an office room and other things.

"The selection of an adviser for a county is made by the state college of agriculture, and of course they assist in the work so as much good as possible may be derived. The appointment is for three years, no less, but a county can sign a contract for a longer time. The contract is signed either by the county court or by a Commercial organization with the state college.

"The duties of a farm adviser would be to assist each farmer in his work, so as to raise the standard of 90 per cent of the farmers to the 10 per cent. For instance, the corn yield in Nodaway county in 1912 was estimated at over 5,000,000 bushels, and there were 175,000 acres of corn. The average yield per acre was thirty bushels. Now there is no reason why Nodaway county's corn average can't be forty bushels per acre, if good seed corn is selected and the proper care is taken of the crop. Just think what a difference of say five bushels increase per acre would mean to the Nodaway county farmers. It would mean $400,000.

"The adviser would set aside one day each week for his office day, when farmers can come to him to ask his advice on farm matters. Then the rest of the time of the week is to be spent around over the county assisting the various farmers and offering them what advice the adviser can on all subjects of farm management and crops.

"One would be surprised to know the number of farmers that don't know of the free opportunities today to help them out in their problems. For instance, hog cholera serum can be secured at the state college, and the serum has prevented the spread of disease and saved many hogs. Then there is the free seed testing laboratory. Then all of the publications free which appertain to the farm work.

"In the two counties which have these advisers—Pettis and Cape Girardeau—they are more than pleased with the results obtained so far. In Pettis county they are after two more men in addition to Sam Jordan. In Cape Girardeau county they are sorry that they did not sign a contract with the state college for five years at $2,000 a year instead of three years.

"The success and permanency of the plan depends on the county court giving the county's share of the adviser's salary, so as to make every one interested in the work. This can be done under the Nelson law."

A dinner was given to Dean Mumford at the Linville hotel today, and a conference was held in the Commercial club rooms with a number from over the county.

At the conference this afternoon no action was taken by those present, but every one was heartily in favor of having a county adviser.

BYRON FOND OF CHILDREN

Frances Lady Shelley Describes the Famous English Poet as She Saw Him.

Frances Lady Shelley, who knew most of the celebrated people between the dates 1787 and 1817, gives a description of Lord Byron as she first saw him in 1813:

"From Althorp we went to Colonel Leigh's, near Newark, for the shooting. We stayed there a few days. The house is far too small even for the company it contained. Lord Byron was there. Mrs. Leigh told me that he spent most of the night writing a poem which is to be called 'The Corsair.' As he did not leave his room until after midnight our intercourse was restricted.

"He is decidedly handsome and can be very agreeable. He seems to be easily put out by trifles and at times looks terribly savage. He was very patient with Mrs. Leigh's children, who are not in the least in awe of him. He bore their distracting intrusion into his room with imperturbable good humor. Mrs. Leigh has evidently great moral influence over her brother, who listens with a sort of playful acquiescence. But I doubt the permanence of their effect upon his wayward nature."

Cornellie Not in Want.

It has long been a literary tradition that Cornelle, the great French poet, died in want. But it seems clearly established that this is a mistake, dating from an apocryphal and ill interpreted letter, since a recent study of various old documents at Rouen shows that he was possessed of property in lands and houses which would have made many a latter day poet happy. In addition he had his pension from the king, although it apparently wasn't very regularly paid. And following the fashion of those days he was recompensed for his dedications to noble persons.

As for the sale of "Polyeucte," "Horace," "Le Cid" and the other dramas over which so many youngsters have groaned, through the mistaken policy of forcing students with scarcely a smattering of French grammar to wade through the classics, they doubtless had small sales, as sales are reckoned now, but we are assured that sell they did, and they may even have been the best sellers of their day.

Locks in Ancient Egypt.

The Egyptian lock, states the Ironmonger, was an assemblage of wooden pins or bolts. It is possible that this suggested to Bramah his remarkable invention. The Roman lock was practically a padlock; and it seems probable that the key was of Green origin. In Latin countries the locksmith never confined himself to mere door furniture. At the very beginning—as now—advised in France—his art embraced all the wrought ironwork which serves to close and secure our dwellings, from a monumental garden gate and railings to a simple latchkey. That art reached its apogee about the fifteenth or sixteenth century, so far as the former class of work was concerned. Some medieval specimens—the hinges of the doors at Notre Dame, for instance—are so remarkable that envious and humorous contemporaries have not failed to hint that the smith who executed them must have sold his soul to the devil.

VEGETATION IN THE SNOW

Delicate and Beautiful Flowers in Abundance, Though Absence of Fragrance is Marked.

Snowstorms during the summer months are of frequent occurrence in the Rocky Mountain region at an elevation of 10,000 feet and upward, sometimes covering the ground to a depth of several inches.

The flowers at this elevation are usually small, of delicate tints and very beautiful, but lacking in fragrance. Owing to the absence of moisture in the atmosphere freezing does not affect vegetation at this altitude as it does nearer sea level. The flowers, after having been completely covered with snow for a day or two, will regain their former vigor after the snow departs, although they will appear slightly wilted for a few days after their snow bath.

There is a tiny little flower of four petals which follows the receding snows far above timber line, which is usually about 11,500 feet above sea level. So closely does it follow the melting snows that it is often possible to stand on one spot, pluck flowers with the right hand and make snowballs with the left.

On the other hand during the dead of winter one may often see the snow in the big timber black with a very small flea. It is much smaller than the domestic pest and does not attach itself to animals. These fleas make their appearance during a thaw and the snow will look as if a giant had taken a fine mesh sieve and sifted soot over it. They disappear as if by magic during freezing weather, to reappear when it moderates.

MAN CREATOR OF CHARACTER

Portion of the Immortal Life That in Law of Nature Must Endure For Ever.

Nature works upon the lower forms of life. A higher power than the stone has formed it; the trees, the flowers, even the insects and beasts are plastic materials in the hands of the Great Potter. Through it, in unthinkable time, the bodies are formed for man. He enters the temple prepared for him, and nature, who has been supreme, now bows before the mystery. She sees before her not alone the world stuff to be fashioned, but the very creative spark. No longer can she mold unaided. It becomes her office now to furnish the opportunities for the entering man, who has before him the herculean task of evolving the human mind. No outside force alone can make him. The creative seed is itself within him. Every event, every circumstance, is something to be met and acted upon by him, the creator of his own destiny. Whether ignorantly or consciously, he works in the illimitable and exhaustless laboratory of nature, and therein slowly but surely fashions—character. Human laws may be framed and forgotten; temples may be reared and crumble; whole races may pass through their allotment of sorrow, despair and joy, and be no more; continents may rise and sink; but character, by means of which all these things are formed and colored, character, as part of man, the immortal, endures.—Gertrude van Pelt in the Theosophical Path.

Australian "Tea Fuddle."

The "tea fuddle" is still in vogue in New South Wales and Queensland, writes a correspondent. The term has nothing in common with "fuddling" in the sense in which that word is used in England.

A "tea fuddle" in Australia is a means of raising money—usually at a bazaar in aid of some church or chapel. Those who enter their names as subscribers to the "fuddle" each subscribe a shilling. Their names are pasted on to tea cups which are jumbled together on a tea table. Each subscriber, after being blindfolded, picks up a cup. Should he happen to pick up the one bearing his own name he gets a prize. As there are usually about a hundred entries this very seldom happens and the money of course goes to the bazaar funds.—London Chronicle.

Don't You Reckon
The Kansas City Star
Would "Raise a Holler" if it had
Made a Gain of 24 Per Cent

In its Circulation in a Year?

Then why shouldn't the Democrat-Forum do likewise? The Star is recognized as the foremost paper in Western Missouri. Yet it does not cover its field any more thoroughly than we do ours. In all the great state of Missouri, there is no town the size of Maryville that has a daily paper whose circulation will compare with that of the Democrat-Forum. Do you believe that, Mr. Advertiser? YES! Why? Because we keep telling it to you, and there are none bold enough to dispute it. THAT'S the result of persistence in Truthful Advertising.

Xmas Eve.

When the snow begins to fall,
When the quail begins to fall,
When we're happy, one and all,
It's Xmas eve.

When we hurry to and fro,
Through the soft, new-fallen snow,
Laden with parcels odd, I know
It's Xmas eve.

When you pass some girl or boy,
Their face lit up with a new joy,
The cause of which is some new toy,
It's Xmas eve.

When you stay up late at night,
Working hard with all your might
To keep things from the children's sight,
It's Xmas eve.

When children hang their stockings high,
Then quickly off to bed they lie,
And long for dawn, I wonder why?
It's Xmas eve.

AIR GRIEVANCES OVER TARIFF

Discussion Ranges From Poker
Chips to Sponges.

ARGUE AGAINST MOST CHANGES

President of Glue and Gelatine Manufacturers' Association Complains of Trust Controlling Trade in Europe and South America.

Washington, Jan. 7.—A score of manufacturers, importers and representatives of other interests affected by customs changes aired their grievances before the house committee on ways and means in the hearings preliminary to the revision of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law at the coming extra session of congress.

The discussion ranged from poker chips to sponges and from caustic potash to laundry soap. The burden of the arguments was the maintenance of the present tariff instead of the changes proposed by the Democrats along the line of the terms of the chemical tariff revision bill that was put through both houses to a White House veto last year.

Chairman Underwood and his associate members of the committee examined each witness after the fifteen-minute argument the committee allotted them and there was some joking to lighten the tariff tinkering.

The specter of a gigantic glue trust, whose tentacles reached out over Europe and into South America, was raised by Charles Delaney, president of the National Association of Glue and Gelatine Manufacturers. Mr. Delaney pictured "the European glue trust" as doing its work with the approval of the various European governments.

The glue trust, he said, also was largely engaged in the manufacture of gelatine. The witness said the present tariff on glue and gelatine was not prohibitive and government revenues from these articles had increased under the present tariff. He said any material change in the present conditions would seriously weaken the industry.

CONTROL OF BIG BUSINESS

Bristow Has Plan for Supervision of Interstate Corporations.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Senator Bristow of Kansas presented to the senate a proposal for an industrial commission of seven members to take over the work of the bureau of corporations and exercise control over all persons, firms or corporations doing an interstate business with gross receipts of more than $5,000,000 per year. Explaining the bill to the senate, he said that it proposed to create a body similar to the interstate commerce commission, to have the same power over industrial concerns that the latter exercises over the transportation companies.

"The purpose is to protect the people with some degree of promptness from the extortionate practices of powerful corporations without destroying the business they represent," he said.

Rockefeller is in Hotel at Nassau.
Miami, Fla., Jan. 7.—William G. Rockefeller, wanted as a witness before the Pujos money trust investigating committee, is a guest at a hotel at Nassau, Bahama Islands, according to persons arriving here from the island. Statements by steamship officials were that Mr. Rockefeller sailed from Miami on the steamer Miami last week, after arriving here from Palm Beach in the private car of President Parrott of the Florida East Coast railroad.

Conditions in Mexico Much Better.
Washington, Jan. 7.—Conditions in Mexico generally, and especially in the border states, are reported better in advices received at the state department from American consuls in Chihuahua and Sonora. These are to the effect that there have been no fresh outbreaks and from the American embassy in Mexico City the news indicates dispersal of the rebel bands operating in the country to the south and east of the capital.

Socialist Regime Ends at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Jan. 7.—Milwaukee is no longer the "socialist city." At midnight the terms of socialist county officers expired and the non-partisan candidates, elected last November, were inaugurated. Nine county officials were inaugurated and their induction into office brings the government of Milwaukee and county entirely under the non-partisan rule.

Hitchcock Eager to Go Limit.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Radical recommendations will shortly be made by Postmaster General Hitchcock that the government conduct the express business now done by the express companies. Mr. Hitchcock is convinced the government can not stop at the new parcel post law, but must go the whole length.

Western Skaters to Contest.

St. Paul, Jan. 7.—The annual tournament of the Western Skating association will be held at the Hippodrome ring at the Minnesota state fair grounds here on Jan. 17, 18 and 19. Robert McLean of Chicago will defend his title as champion amateur ice skater of the world.

JUDGE ARCHBALD TELLS HIS STORY

Denies Improper Intentions in
Coal Land Deal.

FAVORS DONE FOR ASSOCIATES

Accused Jurist Admits Many Facts Charged by House Managers in Impeachment Case, but Denies Implication of Wrong Purpose.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Friendship for his Scranton associates with whom he had lived and worked for years was the motive that led Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States commerce court to negotiate with officials of the Erie and Lehigh Valley railroads over the settlement of coal land matters and that induced him to endorse certain notes, according to the statements made by the accused jurist when he took the stand before the impeachment court of the senate to testify in his own behalf.

Judge Archbald followed his wife on the witness stand. Led by his own attorneys, he gave a chronological history of the transactions upon which the house of representatives had based its impeachment proceedings against him. He repeatedly denied that any improper motives influenced his actions or that he had sought corruptly to use his power as a federal judge to induce the railroad officials to do certain things.

Mrs. Archbald, an eloquent figure in defense of her husband's integrity as to the trip to Europe, which he enjoyed at the expense of Henry W. Cannon, a director in the Great Northern and other railroads, was under examination but a short time. She said Mr. Cannon was her cousin and that the two families had been intimate for years and that they had frequently enjoyed pleasure trips together.

Judge Archbald appeared composed and assured in his statements throughout the day, and his voice carried to all points of the senate chamber. He admitted his associations with Edward J. Williams of Scranton in negotiations for the Katvold refuse coal dump owned jointly by a subsidiary of the Erie railroad and by the firm of Robertson & Law.

He admitted that he had talked with Second Vice President Richardson and General Counsel Brownell of the Erie in an effort to expedite a decision as to whether the Erie would grant an option on its part of the dump, but he denied that he had tried or intended to influence them to act in his favor.

Upon one point only was the jurist subjected to much questioning from members of the senate. This was in reference to the charge that as a member of the commerce court he had written to Helm Bruce, an attorney for the Louisville and Nashville railroad, as to the evidence that had been presented in the case of that road against the interstate commerce commission, tried before the commerce court.

Judge Archbald declared certain points in the evidence were clear and that he had written to Mr. Bruce to clear them up. Members of the senate asked if he had shown the correspondence to other members of the commerce court or informed them of it. Judge Archbald said he had not.

HARRIMAN PLAN REJECTED

Dissolution Scheme Presented by Attorneys Not Satisfactory.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The supreme court held that the plan advanced by the Union Pacific attorneys of disposing of the entire stockholdings of the Union Pacific Railroad company in the Southern Pacific company by transfer to the stockholders of the Union Pacific company would not so effectively end the Union Pacific merger as to comply with its dissolution decree.

Union Pacific attorneys claimed for the Union Pacific stockholders the exclusive privilege of taking over the $126,650,000 worth of Southern Pacific stock, which the supreme court found the Union Pacific owns in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Attorney General Wickersham opposed any plan that gave the Union Pacific stockholders an exclusive privilege of buying the Southern Pacific stock in question. He was willing to approve, however, a plan for the Union Pacific stockholders to share in the distribution with the Southern Pacific stockholders other than the Union Pacific Railroad company.

Railroads and express companies won a revolutionary decision in the supreme court when it was held that contracts limiting to small sums their liability for loss of shipments were not subject to state laws, but to interstate laws. It was further held that contracts limiting liability to a small sum in return for a low rate were not in violation of the interstate commerce laws.

Vandals Desecrate Chicago Cathedral.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Vandals desecrated the altar and stole the communion service from the chapel of the Episcopal cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. A short time later the loot was recovered in a rooming house and two men arrested, charged with the crime. A service of reparation was held, with Dean Walter T. Sumner officiating, to restore the chapel to its condition of sanctity.

TURKEY AGAIN GAINS DELAY

Makes Small Concessions and Allies Suspend Conference.

WANT PRESSURE FROM POWERS

Work of Conference Will Be Taken Up Again at End of Week—Ottomans Still Insist Upon Retention of Adrianople.

London, Jan. 7.—The first stage of the peace negotiations, which is regarded by diplomats largely as one of pretense on Turkey's part to avoid the appearance of yielding to the demands of the allies without pressure from the powers, is now over. It is expected the second stage will soon begin, with the powers acting behind the scenes and pulling the strings, which will compel Turkey to concede the bulk of the allies' demands.

Without money, its army inadequate and demoralized, its statesmen realize that Turkey is in no condition to resume hostilities with the slightest chance of success.

At the sitting of the conference Turkey renounced in favor of the allies its rights in the island of Crete and promised further rectification of the Thracian frontier, but insisted upon the retention of Adrianople. The allies declared this was not satisfactory and suspended the conference.

That does not mean a rupture of the negotiations. The conference may be resumed either by Turkey giving notification that it has fresh proposals to submit, or by the allies on the ground that they have communications to make to the Turks. It is generally expected the work of the conference will be taken up again at the end of the week, when the festivities in connection with the orthodox Christmas are ended.

CALVERT HEIRS MEET

Vote to Push Their Fight for $600,000 Estate.

Kansas City, Jan. 7.—To splice the broken chains of lineage and to arrange the financial end of preparing a systematized campaign, the Western Calvert Heirs' association met here and resolved to take up the fight for the possession of the lands in and around the city of Baltimore that were granted in the seventeenth century to the first Lord Baltimore by King James I. of England. Besides thousands of acres in Maryland, there are said to be an estate in Ireland, an old manor, and a lordship title for some person to annex.

The association has a hundred members in and around Kansas City, most of whom claim to be descendants of George Calvert, who lived at Deep Hole farm, Virginia, and who was said to be the son of William, the son of Leonard Calvert's son, William. The estate for which the association's officers assert they will soon open a legal contest, has an estimated value of $600,000,000.

Frost Hits Orange Belt.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Reports of freezing weather in the California orange growing belt and the prediction that frost might destroy a large part of this year's crop were discussed here with interest. KILLS INDIAN IN HAND-TO-HAND CONFLICT

Robideaux Tells of Fatal Fight With Two Brothers.

Mitchell, S. D., Jan. 7.—In a hand-to-hand conflict with two Indians at Porcupine, Chris Robideaux killed one of them and seriously wounded the other. The Indians, Louis Ringing Shield and George Plenty Wound, brothers, had been to the Rosebud agency, where they had been paid some money, and stopped at the Robideaux home and asked for a horse, which he loaned them. The Indians had been drinking to some extent, and when Robideaux suggested that they leave the horse at his place and return for it later, Ringing Shield commenced shooting with his gun, assisted by Wound. In the close conflict Mr. Robideaux wrenched the gun from the grasp of Ringing Shield and struck him over the head with the butt, and he died several hours after. George Wound came out of the fight with some bad injuries about the head. Mr. Robideaux went at once to the Pine Ridge agency, told the story of the killing and gave himself up to the officers.

EXPEDITION ACT IS VALID

Court Rules That It Was Not Repealed by New Code.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The supreme court announced the decision that the United States judges of the Eighth circuit and not the district judges in Missouri should enforce the recent decree of the court holding that the St. Louis Terminal company has been violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

In so holding the court decided that the "expedition act," authorizing the calling together of circuit judges to pass upon important cases, was not repealed by the judicial code which went into effect a year ago.

Acquitted of Murder.

Macon, Mo., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Minnie Keown was acquitted of the charge of murdering James McCracken at her second trial that ended here when a jury filed a verdict at midnight. Mrs. Keown's first trial last September resulted in a "hung" jury. McCracken was killed at the woman's home on the night of June 30, 1911. Mrs. Keown, who was a widow, had been annoyed by intruders and when McCracken knocked for admission, she fired through the door with a pistol.

Third Trial of Dr. Hyde Postponed. Kansas City, Jan. 7.—The third trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde for the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope was postponed one week by Judge Porterfield. The court announced that the week's time was given because the state had found it impossible to have its witnesses ready. Floyd Jacobs, county prosecutor, said the state would be ready for the opening of the trial next Monday.

Bonds to Be Ready in Ten Days.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Bonds for the thirty-two dynamite plotters convicted in the dynamite suits and in whose cases appeals were granted last week, will be submitted to the United States circuit court of appeals in Chicago, within ten days, attorneys for the defendants said. District Attorney Miller, who prosecuted the case, will be asked to aid in passing on the sureties.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui.

The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, JAN. 7, 1913.

NO. 187.

IT COST $65,000

TEMPORARY CAPITOL BUILDING
ERECTED FOR LEGISLATURE.

BUILT IN FOUR MONTHS

It is Estimated It Will Take Nine
Years for New Building—Temporary Quarters Necessary.

The temporary state capitol building in which the legislature will meet while the new capitol is being constructed will open Wednesday when the general assembly is called to order, fully equipped in all details.

Work on the building was begun August 15, after a long discussion of the advisability of renting temporary quarters. An expenditure of approximately $65,000 has been made, subject to the ratification of the legislature.

The completion of the new capitol building, it is estimated, will take from seven to nine years.

The temporary building is three and one-half stories high, and is of the modified modern classic type. The effect produced by the exterior lines is plain, but imposing.

The building is of frame construction, with the exterior walls finished in cement plastering, giving the impression of stone.

Huge steel trusses span the house and senate chambers, supported on steel columns, which continue down to the foundation. The main entrance is ornamented by ionic columns, reaching up two stories.

The ground floor contains the senate and house enrolling and engrossing departments, ten spacious committee rooms and a large, fireproof vault connected by a stairway with a similar vault in the secretary of state's department. A 10-foot corridor runs the length of the first floor.

The offices of the secretary of state, auditor and treasurer and the governor's suite also are located on the ground floor. Each contains a reception room, private office, stenographer's room, workroom and fireproof vault.

The legislative halls are reached by a wide stairway, centrally located, continuing up to the gallery floors and landing in a large hall which separates the house and senate chambers.

The senate chamber is on the second floor. It is 43x47 feet, with a ceiling 22 feet high, and is lighted on the north and east sides. In the east chamber, where the presiding officer will sit, are located the private offices of the lieutenant governor, the senate secretary and the folder and stationery rooms.

The house chamber is 63x47 feet, with an inclined floor and a ceiling 22 feet high. It is lighted from the north and south sides. The speaker's seat is in the west end, as are also the offices of the speaker, chief clerk and folder and stationery rooms.

Galleries for the public, with a seating capacity of 200 each, are situated in the rear end of both chambers, and are entered from the main hall.

In the gallery room provision also is made for a telegraph department and for a large appropriation committee room. Above the seats of the presiding officers of both the house and senate are private galleries.

Fined for Being Drunk.

Ernest Grandgeorge and Charles Connors were arrested Monday evening at Kane's saloon for drunkenness, and spent the night in the city jail. They both pleaded guilty to being drunk and were fined by Mayor Robey Tuesday morning. The fine and costs amounted to $11.10 in each case.

The Field-Lippman team defeated the New York Candy Kitchen team in the bowling tournament in a game played Monday night. They took two games out of three. Schumacher and Belcher were tied for high score with 178 each. Belcher had high average of 164.2-3.

Meeting Closed at Arkoe.

The meetings that have been in progress at Arkoe were brought to a close Sunday evening by the pastor, W. E. Royston. There were forty conversions and thirty-eight accessions to the church. This meeting was a decided success notwithstanding the serious illness of the pastor in the midst of the meetings. Those who preached for the pastor during his absence were Dr. W. B. Christy, Dr. G. S. Cox and Rev. M. Dewitt. Had the pastor been able to be with them all the time, and there had been no break in the meetings all indications seem to suggest that there might have been one hundred conversions. Prof. Washburn, the singer, proved to be a great factor in the meetings, especially in the absence of the pastor. This is decidedly the greatest meeting Arkoe has had in years. Prof. Washburn left Saturday night for Clearfield, Ia., where he is to assist in a meeting.

BARNARD.

Rev. Royston returned from the Arkoe meeting Monday. He and his family are going to leave Barnard Tuesday for Oklahoma, where they will visit at the following places: Stillwater, Glencoe, and then go to Blackburn, where he is to assist his brother in a meeting. They will return in three weeks. The Barnard charge will be supplied in the absence of Rev. Royston by Dr. Hanna of Bolckow and Rev. James Carmichael of Maryville.

Mrs. Salina Riddle of Barnard, who has been away from her home here for the past four months, is now back and in fairly good health. Grandma is certainly a good help in sickness. She seems to think that she can work in this capacity and she certainly has the desire to do it.

WANT MORE MONEY

STATE INSTITUTIONS ASK MORE
REVENUE FOR NEXT YEAR.

NORMAL AFTER $123,000

State School Will Try for an Increased
Appropriation—Auditor Says Revenue is Not Sufficient.

The state departments and institutions are asking for appropriations for the next two years, which exceed by $2,414,458.26 State Auditor Gordon's estimates of the available revenue for the next biennial period. The state government and its institutions, eleemosynary, penal and educational, are demanding $12,714,458.26. Auditor Gordon figures the revenue from all sources for the next two years will not exceed $10,300,000.

This means the legislature and the governor must find some new source of revenue or shave down the appropriations asked. During the past ten or twelve years the demand each biennial period for revenue has exceeded the available revenues because of the growth of the state institutions.

The Maryville State Normal will ask for $90,000 for salaries and support and $33,741 for other items. The appropriation two years ago was $102,523.13.

Following is the amount of money asked for by each of the educational institutions and the amount each received two years ago:

State university, $865,000, and two years ago received $502,000.

Kirkville normal wants $340,000, and two years ago received $201,800.

Warrensburg normal wants $388,362, and two years ago received $196,250.

Cape Girardeau normal is after $186,383.92, and two years ago received $228,260.

Springfield normal would like to have $213,000, and two years ago received $278,156.

The amount of appropriations asked for by these institutions exceed by $721,588.40 the amount appropriated by the legislature for them for the years 1911-12. The total amount asked for the salaries and support for the years 1913-14 is $1,654,691.92. There was appropriated for this purpose in 1911-12 $1,217,060. The educational institutions are asking $300,000 for new buildings or repairs. Two years ago they received for this purpose $233,000. They want $509,305.61 for miscellaneous expenses. They received two years ago $292,529.13 for miscellaneous expenses. The state auditor estimates that there will be $1,000,000 available for educational purposes from the collateral inheritance tax, which goes entirely to the state university, and the seminary money for this biennial period.

The Housewife's Dialogue.

Thou shalt not discard thy good dress because it is faded, but bleach to a pure white.

Thou shalt not pay out much money for corn posters, because a salve of soda and lard will cure the very worst corn on thy toe.

Thou shalt not use damp fruit, or thy cake will be heavy; after washing the currants and raisins, thou shalt be sure they are thoroughly dry.

Thou shalt not throw away sour cream, but use it in place of butter, when thou art baking.

Thou shalt not dry white gloves or hose in the sun, lest they turn yellow.

Thou shalt not discard thy rubber bag because of a hole, but fill with hot sand or salt, and 'twill give all the heat thou needest.

Thou shalt not let the juice ooze out from thy pie, because thou can prevent it by binding the edge with a strip of white cloth wrung out of cold water.

Thou shalt not pay large sums for dry cleaning, but thou shalt use "elbow grease" with cake of magnesia.

Thou shalt not allow cheese to mold, when a cloth wet in vinegar and put over it will prevent.

Thou shalt not use thy new baking dishes until after thou hast put them in a pan of cold water, set where it will boil, and then set away until water has cooled.—National Magazine.

UP TO THE COURT

PLAN FOR COUNTY ADVISER LAID
BEFORE THAT BODY.

THREE-YEAR CONTRACT

To Obtain Expert It is Necessary for
Court or Club to Contract for
That Length of Time.

Dean F. B. Mumford, head of the agricultural department of the state university, was in Maryville Tuesday, conferring with the county court and others interested in securing a county adviser for Nodaway county. Mr. Mumford was asked to come to this city by the Commercial club to explain the plans by which to get a man to give practical and scientific knowledge to every farmer in the county.

When Mr. Mumford was seen by a representative of this paper he said:

"If Nodaway county wants a county adviser it will be necessary to raise $1,000, as the United States government will give $500, and the state will also give $500. The United States government has set aside $500,000 for this purpose. The salary of an adviser is $2,000 a year, and of course there are some other expenses, such as providing an office room and other things.

"The selection of an adviser for a county is made by the state college of agriculture, and of course they assist in the work so as much good as possible may be derived. The appointment is for three years, no less, but a county can sign a contract for a longer time. The contract is signed either by the county court or by a Commercial organization with the state college.

"The duties of a farm adviser would be to assist each farmer in his work, so as to raise the standard of 90 per cent of the farmers to the 10 per cent. For instance, the corn yield in Nodaway county in 1912 was estimated at over 5,000,000 bushels, and there were 173,000 acres of corn. The average yield per acre was thirty bushels. Now there is no reason why Nodaway county's corn average can't be forty bushels per acre, if good seed corn is selected and the proper care is taken of the crop. Just think what a difference of say five bushels increase per acre would mean to the Nodaway county farmers. It would mean $400,000.

"The adviser would set aside one day each week for his office day, when farmers can come to him to ask his advice on farm matters. Then the rest of the time of the week is to be spent around over the county assisting the various farmers and offering them what advice the adviser can on all subjects of farm management and crops.

"One would be surprised to know the number of farmers that don't know of the free opportunities today to help them out in their problems. For instance, hog cholera serum can be secured at the state college, and the serum has prevented the spread of disease and saved many hogs. Then there is the free seed testing laboratory. Then all of the publications free which appertain to the farm work.

"In the two counties which have these advisers—Pettis and Cape Girardeau—they are more than pleased with the results obtained so far. In Pettis county they are after two more men in addition to Sam Jordan. In Cape Girardeau county they are sorry that they did not sign a contract with the state college for five years at $2,000 a year instead of three years.

"The success and permanency of the plan depends on the county court giving the county's share of the adviser's salary, so as to make every one interested in the work. This can be done under the Nelson law."

A dinner was given to Dean Mumford at the Linville hotel today, and a conference was held in the Commercial club rooms with a number from over the county.

At the conference this afternoon no action was taken by those present, but every one was heartily in favor of having a county adviser.

The directors present at the meeting were W. O. Garrett, president of the board; E. E. Carver of Gullford, George Falk of Richmond, Mo., and S. A. McKelvie of Fairfield, Neb.

The directors and F. P. Robinson, Frank Garrett, A. F. BYRON FOND OF CHILDREN

Frances Lady Shelley Describes the Famous English Poet as She Saw Him.

Frances Lady Shelley, who knew most of the celebrated people between the dates 1787 and 1817, gives a description of Lord Byron as she first saw him in 1813:

"From Althorp we went to Colonel Leigh's near Newark, for the shooting. We stayed there a few days. The house is far too small even for the company it contained. Lord Byron was there. Mrs. Leigh told me that he spent most of the night writing a poem which is to be called 'The Corsair.' As he did not leave his room until after midday our intercourse was restricted.

"He is decidedly handsome and can be very agreeable. He seems to be easily put out by trifles and at times looks terribly savage. He was very patient with Mrs. Leigh's children, who are not in the least in awe of him. He bore their distracting intrusion into his room with imperturbable good humor. Mrs. Leigh has evidently great moral influence over her brother, who listens with a sort of playful acquiescence. But I doubt the permanence of their effect upon his wayward nature."

Cornellie Not in Want.

It has long been a literary tradition that Cornellie, the great French poet, died in want. But it seems clearly established that this is a mistake, dating from an apocryphal and ill interpreted letter, since a recent study of various old documents at Rouen shows that he was possessed of property in lands and houses which would have made many a latter day poet happy. In addition he had his pension from the king, although it apparently wasn't very regularly paid. And following the fashion of those days he was recompensed for his dedications to noble persons.

As for the sale of "Polyeucte," "Horace," "Le Cid" and the other dramas over which so many youngsters have groaned, through the mistaken policy of forcing students with scarcely a smattering of French grammar to wade through the classics, they doubtless had small sales, as sales are reckoned now, but we are assured that they did, and they may even have been the best sellers of their day.

Locks in Ancient Egypt.

The Egyptian lock, states the Ironmonger, was an assemblage of wooden pins or bolts. It is possible that this suggested to Bramah his remarkable invention. The Roman lock was practically a padlock; and it seems probable that the key was of Green origin. In Latin countries the locksmith never confined himself to mere door furniture. At the very beginning—as now—advised in France—his art embraced all the wrought ironwork which serves to close and secure our dwellings, from a monumental garden gate and railings to a simple latchkey. That art reached its apogee about the fifteenth or sixteenth century, so far as the former class of work was concerned. Some medieval specimens—the hinges of the doors at Notre Dame, for instance—are so remarkable that envious and humorous contemporaries have not failed to hint that the smith who executed them must have sold his soul to the devil.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Wilderman; "Libretto of Opera 'Mona,'" Mrs. Ferdinand M. Townsend. The general program closed with a discussion of operas, when Mrs. Thomas sang more from "Robin Hood." This was followed with selections from operas played on the victrola. The next meeting, which is an open session, will be held February 3 with Mrs. Thomas, when the program given in the year book under date of January 6 will be carried out. The chairman urges that every member make an effort to be present. The general club is invited.

Cox, who gave a beautiful exposition of the afternoon's subject, "In the Secret of His Presence." Mrs. Charles Gaugh followed with a talk on "The Place of Prayer in Missionary Work," and Mrs. J. W. Herndon on "Conditions of Effective Prayer." Mrs. George B. Baker read of several instances of answered prayer, and Miss Vada Folland read a poem entitled "My Refuge," from the prayer of a Chinese woman. Miss Mary Q. Evans spoke on "Prayer for a Definite Object." The music on the program was contributed by two visitors, a vocal solo by Miss Verna Felter and a piano number by Miss Helen Dean. The other visitors for the afternoon were Miss Anna Houston of Burlington Junction, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Emmett Scott; Mrs. Earl Fisher of Wichita, Kan., a former member of the society; Mrs. J. L. Scott, Miss Maud Hagin, Miss Isora Mutz and Rev. Gilbert S. Cox. During the social hour the refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Miss Dena Hartman and Mrs. Emmett Scott. The meeting was largely attended by the membership and the program distinctly profitable.

VEGETATION IN THE SNOW

Delicate and Beautiful Flowers in Abundance, Though Absence of Fragrance is Marked.

Snowstorms during the summer months are of frequent occurrence in the Rocky Mountain region at an elevation of 10,000 feet and upward, sometimes covering the ground to a depth of several inches.

The flowers at this elevation are usually small, of delicate tints and very beautiful, but lacking in fragrance. Owing to the absence of moisture in the atmosphere freezing does not affect vegetation at this altitude as it does nearer sea level. The flowers, after having been completely covered with snow for a day or two, will regain their former vigor after the snow departs, although they will appear slightly wilted for a few days after their snow bath.

There is a tiny little flower of four petals which follows the receding snows far above timber line, which is usually about 11,500 feet above sea level. So closely does it follow the melting snows that it is often possible to stand on one spot, pluck flowers with the right hand and make snowballs with the left.

On the other hand during the dead of winter one may often see the snow in the big timber black with a very small flea. It is much smaller than the domestic pest and does not attach itself to animals. These fleas make their appearance during a thaw and the snow will look as if a giant had taken a fine mesh sieve and sifted soot over it. They disappear as if by magic during freezing weather, to reappear when it moderates.

MAN CREATOR OF CHARACTER

Portion of the Immortal Life That in Law of Nature Must Endure For Ever.

Nature works upon the lower forms of life. A higher power than the stone has formed it; the trees, the flowers, even the insects and beasts are plastic materials in the hands of the Great Potter. Through it, in unthinkable time, the bodies are formed for man. He enters the temple prepared for him, and nature, who has been supreme, now bows before the mystery. She sees before her not alone the world stuff to be fashioned, but the very creative spark. No longer can she mold unaided. It becomes her office now to furnish the opportunities for the entering man, who has before him the herculean task of evolving the human mind. No outside force alone can make him. The creative seed is itself within him. Every event, every circumstance, is something to be met and acted upon by him, the creator of his own destiny. Whether ignorantly or consciously, he works in the illimitable and exhaustless laboratory of nature, and therein slowly but surely fashions—character. Human laws may be framed and forgotten; temples may be reared and crumble; whole races may pass through their allotment of sorrow, despair and joy, and be no more; continents may rise and sink; but character, by means of which all these things are formed and colored, character, as part of man, the immortal, endures.—Gertrude van Pelt in the Theosophical Path.

Australian "Tea Fuddle."

The "tea fuddle" is still in vogue in New South Wales and Queensland, writes a correspondent. The term has nothing in common with "fuddling" in the sense in which that word is used in England.

A "tea fuddle" in Australia is a means of raising money—usually at a bazaar in aid of some church or chapel. Those who enter their names as subscribers to the "fuddle" each subscribe a shilling. Their names are pasted on to teacups which are jumbled together on a tea table. Each subscriber, after being blindfolded, picks up a cup. Should he happen to pick up the one bearing his own name he gets a prize. As there are usually about a hundred entries this very seldom happens and the money of course goes to the bazaar funds.—London Chronicle.

Xmas Eve.

When the snow begins to fall,
When the quail begins to fall,
When we're happy, one and all,
It's Xmas eve.

When we hurry to and fro,
Through the soft, new-fallen snow,
Laden with parcels odd, I know
It's Xmas eve.

When you pass some girl or boy,
Their face lit up with a new joy,
The cause of which is some new toy,
It's Xmas eve.

When you stay up late at night,
Working hard with all your might
To keep things from the children's sight,
It's Xmas eve.

When children hang their stockings high,
Then quickly off to bed they lie,
And long for dawn, I wonder why?
It's Xmas eve.

AIR GRIEVANCES OVER TARIFF

Discussion Ranges From Poker
Chips to Sponges.

ARGUE AGAINST MOST CHANGES

President of Glue and Gelatine Makers' Association Complains of Trust Controlling Trade in Europe and South America.

Washington, Jan. 7.—A score of manufacturers, importers and representatives of other interests affected by customs changes aired their grievances before the house committee on ways and means in the hearings preliminary to the revision of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law at the coming extra session of congress.

The discussion ranged from poker chips to sponges and from caustic potash to laundry soap. The burden of the arguments was the maintenance of the present tariff instead of the changes proposed by the Democrats along the line of the terms of the chemical tariff revision bill that was put through both houses to a White House veto last year.

Chairman Underwood and his associate members of the committee examined each witness after the fifteen-minute argument the committee allotted them and there was some joking to lighten the tariff tinkering.

The specter of a gigantic glue trust, whose tentacles reached out over Europe and into South America, was raised by Charles Delaney, president of the National Association of Glue and Gelatine Manufacturers. Mr. Delaney pictured "the European glue trust" as doing its work with the approval of the various European governments.

The glue trust, he said, also was largely engaged in the manufacture of gelatine. The witness said the present tariff on glue and gelatine was not prohibitive and government revenues from these articles had increased under the present tariff. He said any material change in the present conditions would seriously weaken the industry.

CONTROL OF BIG BUSINESS

Bristow Has Plan for Supervision of Interstate Corporations.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Senator Bristow of Kansas presented to the senate a proposal for an industrial commission of seven members to take over the work of the bureau of corporations and exercise control over all persons, firms or corporations doing an interstate business with gross receipts of more than $5,000,000 per year. Explaining the bill to the senate, he said that it proposed to create a body similar to the interstate commerce commission, to have the same power over industrial concerns that the latter exercises over the transportation companies.

"The purpose is to protect the people with some degree of promptness from the extortionate practices of powerful corporations without destroying the business they represent," he said.

Rockefeller is in Hotel at Nassau.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 7.—William G. Rockefeller, wanted as a witness before the Pujio money trust investigating committee, is a guest at a hotel at Nassau, Bahama Islands, according to persons arriving here from the islands. Statements by steamship officials were that Mr. Rockefeller sailed from Miami on the steamer Miami last week, after arriving here from Palm Beach in the private car of President Parrott of the Florida East Coast rail road.

Conditions in Mexico Much Better.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Conditions in Mexico generally, and especially in the border states, are reported better in advices received at the state department from American consuls in Chihuahua and Sonora. These are to the effect that there have been no fresh outbreaks and from the American embassy in Mexico City the news indicates dispersal of the rebel bands operating in the country to the south and east of the capital.

Socialist Regime Ends at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Jan. 7.—Milwaukee is no longer the "socialist city." At midnight the terms of socialist county officers expired and the non-partisan candidates, elected last November, were inaugurated. Nine county officials were inaugurated and their induction into office brings the government of Milwaukee and county entirely under the non-partisan rule.

Hitchcock Eager to Go Limit.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Radical recommendations will shortly be made by Postmaster General Hitchcock that the government conduct the express business now done by the express companies. Mr. Hitchcock is convinced the government can not stop at the new parcel post law, but must go the whole length.

JUDGE ARCHBALD TELLS HIS STORY

Denies Improper Intentions in
Coal Land Deal.

FAVORS DONE FOR ASSOCIATES

Accused Jurist Admits Many Facts Charged by House Managers in Impeachment Case, but Denies Implication of Wrong Purpose.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Friendship for his Scranton associates with whom he had lived and worked for years was the motive that led Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States commerce court to negotiate with officials of the Erie and Lehigh Valley railroads over the settlement of coal land matters and that induced him to indorse certain notes, according to the statements made by the accused jurist when he took the stand before the impeachment court of the senate to testify in his own behalf.

Judge Archbald followed his wife on the witness stand. Led by his own attorneys, he gave a chronological history of the transactions upon which the house of representatives had based its impeachment proceedings against him. He repeatedly denied that any improper motives influenced his actions or that he had sought corruptly to use his power as a federal judge to induce the railroad officials to do certain things.

Mrs. Archbald, an eloquent figure in defense of her husband's integrity as to the trip to Europe, which he enjoyed at the expense of Henry W. Cannon, a director in the Great Northern and other railroads, was under examination but a short time. She said Mr. Cannon was her cousin and that the two families had been intimate for years and that they had frequently enjoyed pleasure trips together.

Judge Archbald appeared composed and assured in his statements throughout the day, and his voice carried to all points of the senate chamber. He admitted his associations with Edward J. Williams of Scranton in negotiations for the Katydid refuse coal dump owned jointly by a subsidiary of the Erie railroad and by the firm of Robertson & Law.

He admitted that he had talked with Second Vice President Richardson and General Counsel Brownell of the Erie in an effort to expedite a decision as to whether the Erie would grant an option on its part of the dump, but he denied that he had tried or intended to influence them to act in his favor.

Upon one point only was the jurist subjected to much questioning from members of the senate. This was in reference to the charge that as a member of the commerce court he had written to Helm Bruce, an attorney for the Louisville and Nashville railroad, as to the evidence that had been presented in the case of that road against the interstate commerce commission, tried before the commerce court.

Judge Archbald declared certain points in the evidence were not clear and that he had written to Mr. Bruce to clear them up. Members of the senate asked if he had shown the correspondence to other members of the commerce court or informed them of it. Judge Archbald said he had not.

HARRIMAN PLAN REJECTED

Dissolution Scheme Presented by Attorneys Not Satisfactory.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The supreme court held that the plan advanced by the Union Pacific attorneys of disposing of the entire stockholdings of the Union Pacific Railroad company in the Southern Pacific company by transfer to the stockholders of the Union Pacific company would not so effectually end the Union Pacific merger as to comply with its dissolution decree.

Union Pacific attorneys claimed for the Union Pacific stockholders the exclusive privilege of taking over the $126,650,000 worth of Southern Pacific stock, which the supreme court found the Union Pacific owns in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Attorney General Wickersham opposed any plan that gave the Union Pacific stockholders an exclusive privilege of buying the Southern Pacific stock in question. He was willing to approve, however, a plan for the Union Pacific stockholders to share in the distribution with the Southern Pacific stockholders other than the Union Pacific Railroad company.

Railroads and express companies won a revolutionary decision in the supreme court when it was held that contracts limiting to small sums their liability for loss of shipments were not subject to state laws, but to interstate laws. It was further held that contracts limiting liability to small sums in return for a low rate were not in violation of the interstate commerce laws.

Vandals Desecrate Chicago Cathedral.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Vandals desecrated the altar and stole the communion service from the chapel of the Episcopal cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. A short time later the loot was recovered in a rooming house and two men arrested, charged with the crime. A service of reparation was held, with Dean Walter T. Sumner officiating, to restore the chapel to its condition of sanctity.

TURKEY AGAIN GAINS DELAY

Makes Small Concessions and Allies Suspend Conference.

WANT PRESSURE FROM POWERS

Work of Conference Will Be Taken Up Again at End of Week—Ottomans Still Insist Upon Retention of Adrianople.

London, Jan. 7.—The first stage of the peace negotiations, which is regarded by diplomats largely as one of pretense on Turkey's part to avoid the appearance of yielding to the demands of the allies without pressure from the powers, is now over. It is expected the second stage will soon begin, with the powers acting behind the scenes and pulling the strings, which will compel Turkey to concede the bulk of the allies' demands.

Without money, its army inadequate and demoralized, its statesmen realize that Turkey is in no condition to resume hostilities with the slightest chance of success.

At the sitting of the conference Turkey renounced in favor of the allies its rights in the island of Crete and promised further rectification of the Thracian frontier, but insisted upon the retention of Adrianople. The allies declared this was not satisfactory and suspended the conference.

That does not mean a rupture of the negotiations. The conference may be resumed either by Turkey giving notification that it has fresh proposals to submit, or by the allies on the ground that they have communications to make to the Turks. It is generally expected the work of the conference will be taken up again at the end of the week, when the festivities in connection with the orthodox Christmas are ended.

CALVERT HEIRS MEET

Vote to Push Their Fight for $600,000,000 Estate.

Kansas City, Jan. 7.—To splice the broken chains of lineage and to arrange the financial end of preparing a systematized campaign, the Western Calvert Heirs' association met here and resolved to take up the fight for the possession of the lands in and around the city of Baltimore that were granted in the seventeenth century to the first Lord Baltimore by King James I. of England. Besides thousands of acres in Maryland, there are said to be an estate in Ireland, an old manor, and a lordship title for some person to annex.

The association has a hundred members in and around Kansas City, most of whom claim to be descendants of George Calvert, who lived at Deep Hole farm, Virginia, and who was said to be the son of William, the son of Leonard Calvert's son, William. The estate for which the association's officers assert they will soon open a legal contest, has an estimated value of $600,000,000.

Frost Hits Orange Belt.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Reports of freezing weather in the California orange growing belt and the prediction that frost might destroy a large part of this year's crop were discussed here with interest. Chicago receives about 2,400 cars of oranges and lemons from California annually and, next to New York, is the largest wholesale distributing center for citrus fruit in this country.

Two Killed in Gambling Fight.

KILLS INDIAN IN HAND-TO-HAND CONFLICT

Robideaux Tells of Fatal Fight With Two Brothers.

Mitchell, S. D., Jan. 7.—In a hand-to-hand conflict with two Indians at Porcupine, Chris Robideaux killed one of them and seriously wounded the other. The Indians, Louis Ringing Shield and George Plenty Wound, brothers, had been to the Rosebud agency, where they had been paid some money, and stopped at the Robideaux home and asked for a horse, which he loaned them. The Indians had been drinking to some extent, and when Robideaux suggested that they leave the horse at his place and return for it later, Ringing Shield commenced shooting with his gun, assisted by Wound. In the close conflict Mr. Robideaux wrenched the gun from the grasp of Ringing Shield and struck him over the head with the butt, and he died several hours after. George Wound came out of the fight with some bad injuries about the head. Mr. Robideaux went at once to the Pine Ridge agency, told the story of the killing and gave himself up to the officers.

EXPEDITION ACT IS VALID

Court Rules That It Was Not Repealed by New Code.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The supreme court announced the decision that the United States judges of the Eighth circuit and not the district judges in Missouri should enforce the recent decree of the court holding that the St. Louis Terminal company has been violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

In so holding the court decided that the "expedition act," authorizing the calling together of circuit judges to pass upon important cases, was not repealed by the judicial code which went into effect a year ago.

Acquitted of Murder.

Macon, Mo., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Minnie Keown was acquitted of the charge of murdering James McCracken at her second trial that ended here when a jury filed a verdict at midnight. Mrs. Keown's first trial last September resulted in a "hung" jury. McCracken was killed at the woman's home on the night of June 30, 1911. Mrs. Keown, who was a widow, had been annoyed by intruders and when McCracken knocked for admission, she fired through the door with a pistol.

Third Trial of Dr. Hyde Postponed.
Kansas City, Jan. 7.—The third trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde for the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope was postponed one week by Judge Porterfield. The court announced that the week's time was given because the state had found it impossible to have its witnesses ready. Floyd Jacobs, county prosecutor, said the state would be ready for the opening of the trial next Monday.

Bonds to Be Ready in Ten Days.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Bonds for the thirty-two dynamite plotters convicted in the dynamite suits and in whose cases appeals were granted last week, will be submitted to the United States circuit court of appeals in Chicago, within ten days, attorneys for the defendants said. District Attorney Miller, who prosecuted the case, will be asked to aid in passing on the sureties.

Eight Killed by Explosion in Warship.
Toulon, France, Jan. 7.—Eight men were killed by an explosion in the stokehold of the French battleship Massena.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways.

Try it.

Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. R. Patterson, Wellington, Texas, "after four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained eighty-seven pounds."
